WAR RAGES
IN TERMINABLE
PERMIT CLAUSEAuthorities Differ
on Perpetuity Peril

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The final vote on Chicago's transmittable bills will probably be taken by the state senate next week. The most persistent charge against the transmittable permit is that the transmittable permit will be a perpetual franchise, because of the city's lack of financial ability to terminate it. Originally this criticism was made by the advocates of municipal ownership, then by members of the City club and later by others. The views for and against this contention, fragmentarily printed from time to time, will be stated herein, so as to give a general idea of the arguments before the state senate.

The transmittable permit bill allows the permit to be terminated only by purchase of the property by the city. However, the company which first obtains the franchise can be ousted by the city designating a permittee to take up the property and operate it.

No Power of Forfeiture.

The bill confers no power whatever upon the city to forfeit the franchise for misuse, nonuse, or other breach of contract; but the city is given the power to compel the company, by court proceedings, to observe its obligations. The omission of a forfeiture clause by the city is due to the representations of the transit interests and makers that such a provision would constitute an interference with the right of leasing extensions and improvements.

Before termination of the permit is down to the city purchase only. No questions of the city's legal right to purchase, but critics point out the city's financial inability to buy. It is estimated that the city would have to pay the transit properties because of the constitutional limitation of the city's borrowing power.

It appears that the only method by which the city would be able to purchase the transit lines is to take a part of the income of the transit property and set it aside until enough is acquired to buy the entire system. This is known as amortization. The bill allowing the issuance of transmittable permits provides that a permit may require amortization.

New Port of Perpetuity.

Some critics assert that the amortization provision may be repealed by the legislature at its next session. The proponents of the bill say this is not true. At that point a contest of views would be given the power to make an irrevocable contract, and they assert that a power is not granted in any of the bills. The proponents assert that the city is given the power to make an irrevocable contract on all property in which the legislature can exercise authority. If the power to exercise the transportation properties can be repealed by the legislature, then the critics say the city will not have the financial power to purchase and the transmittable permit will become a perpetual franchise.

A legal point is involved, and Stephen A. Foster, formerly transit lawyer for the city under the Dever administration, seems to have had as much opportunity as any other critic to be informed on this legal question.

Attorney Cies Precedent.

Less than a month ago Mr. Foster told the City Council, attorney of the city, that the city had no right to exercise the transportation properties. He said that the city had no right to exercise the transportation properties. He said that the city had no right to exercise the transportation properties.

PRESBYTERIANS VOTE UNITY OF
PROTESTANTSFavor Organic Body of Five Groups.

Dispatches received by The Tribune last night showed widespread movements for unity of Protestant churches. The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, meeting at St. Paul, voted to begin negotiations for union with four other denominations.

The synod of the Reformed Church of the United States, meeting at Indianapolis, considered a report favoring union with the United Brethren Church and the Evangelical synod of North America. The question of union with the Presbyterian church is expected to come up later.

The Church of Scotland and the United Free Church of Scotland agreed to unite.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)

St. Paul, Minn., May 24.—[Special.]—The 141st general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States today went on record unanimously for union of five of the largest Protestant churches in the country.

By a standing vote, the assembly authorized the appointment of commissioners to confer on union with the Protestant Episcopal church, the Methodist Episcopal Church South, the Methodist Episcopal Church North, the Presbyterian Church of the United States, commonly known as the "Free Presbyterian Church South."

The vote was taken as a result of overtures for union made by the Episcopal church.

Overtures Already Made.

Already, a move has been made by the Presbyterian and Reformed church bodies which look toward union. Now, should the latest plan succeed, there will be created in America a single united church of nearly 15,000,000 Protestants.

The assembly appointed a commission, Dr. Robert Speers of New York, to the convention in June of the Reformed church synod, usually known as the Dutch Reformed church, at Holland, Mich., for the purpose of negotiating for union with that body.

Princeton Conservatives Lose.

The general assembly today took up—but failed of final action—one of the most vexing questions with which it has been called upon to deal in years. It was the settlement of the modernist-fundamentalist row over control of Princeton Theological seminary.

In a vote testing the strength of warring factions in the controversy, which has continued for nearly a decade, the conservative element, led by Dr. J. Gresham Machen, a member of the faculty, was beaten by 339 to 209 votes.

The feature of the contest was the absolute control of the assembly by the moderator, Prof. Cleveland B. McAfee of Chicago.

Moderator McAfee won a vote for his parliamentary method of approach to the issue over a substitute motion by Prof. Machen, leader of the fundamentalist bitter-enders who sought more time for debate, or even a tabling of the matter until another general assembly.

Two Boards Control.

The present control of Princeton seminary is in the hands of two boards: a board of trustees and a board of directors. The president of the seminary, Dr. J. Ross Stephenson, is a member of the latter board. The Machen element has felt that the president's membership on this board gave him too much authority, and his defense of the minority report of the board of directors, Prof. Machen pointed out that the president's removal from that board was a principal point.

President Stephenson seeks to make the historic seminary representative in theology of the whole church, while the Machen element would commit the school to the fundamentalist formulas whose spokesmen were routed in general assembly two years ago.

Prof. Machen controls a majority of the faculty while President Stephenson has the majority support both of the board of directors of which he is a member, and the board of trustees. Prof. Machen would maintain a status quo in the present method of control with President Stephenson removed from the board of directors. The majority report of the directors calls for the combination of the directors and trustees in one board with President Stephenson a member.

ACQUITTAL OF HAIK TRIGGER DRY STIRS CONGRESS

Announce U. S. Defense of Prohibition Killers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., May 24.—News of the acquittal in Rochester, N. Y., of the "hair trigger" coast guardmen who killed Jacob D. Hanson, a Niagara Falls, N. Y., citizen, a year ago, aroused indignation at both ends of the capitol today.

Senators and congressmen joined in denouncing the verdict freeing Glenn Hanson, the coast guardman, as a "barbaric" act of justice made "in haste and in haste," they said, by a policy which has thrown "power and influence at the government's command into the defense of prohibition slayers."

Change for Hoover Board.
The intervention of federal courts in the defense of prohibition slayers, with the result that in every case the accused men have escaped punishment, should command attention, it was said today, by President Hoover's recently appointed law enforcement commission.

It was pointed out that unless the commission, in its final report, includes recommendations on the point of intervention of federal courts in the defense of prohibition slayers, the commission will be a failure.

It was undoubtedly the only verdict the jury could bring in under the circumstances, declared Senator Charles McNary (Dem., N. Y.). "It is a verdict which indicates that only one principle of the commission is the right of federal courts to match dry enforcers accused of crime out of state court jurisdiction."

"There has been a grave miscarriage of justice, but it might be excused," said McNary. "I do not approve of the procedure which takes cases into a federal court and makes the United States attorney the defender of an alleged murderer. It violates the long established principle of the commission that a trial should be had before a jury of the vicinage. In short, the whole procedure tends to a miscarriage of justice."

The New York senator emphasized his contention that twelve ordinary jurors, drawn from the countryside for service on a federal jury, could not be influenced by the fact that the government's attorney appeared in the government's court to defend government agents and that the only person called to testify was an army officer, probably in uniform.

Calls for Vicious Assault
In view of the evidence which was presented to the senate committee at a request when an investigation of Hanson's death was undertaken, "I was convinced that a vicious and unlawful assault was made upon an innocent citizen," McNary declared.

The senator declared that at the last opportunity in the regular session he will press his bill proposing to require Hanson's survivors $10,000 and at the same time will offer amendments withdrawing federal court protection from slayers.

The continued repetition of such "miscarriages of justice," asserted Representative F. H. La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.), "and a continuance of the government's prevailing policy of exerting its full strength and power to defend prohibition slayers can lead to only one thing—more justice and no government."

"We must repeal prohibition or prohibition, enacted by such incidents as the killing of Hanson and exonerated of the slayer, will repeal government. The acquittal of Jennings will be hailed, according to Mr. La Guardia, by every dry agent and snapper, federal, state and municipal, as an encouragement to new extremes in brutality, terrorism and corruption."

Buffalo Resents Decision.
Buffalo, N. Y., May 24.—[Special.]—Indignation over the acquittal of the coast guardman Glenn Hanson in the fatal shooting of Jacob D. Hanson, Niagara Falls club man, was expressed today. Even though the jury in the case made a criticism of the too free use of firearms in the enforcement of laws, the acquittal, it was declared, was a vindication of the prohibition.

DELVE INTO HIGH COSTS OF CITY'S SPECIAL LAWYERS

Rates of $30 and $20 for 5 Hour Day Under Fire.

The size of legal fees demanded by special attorneys employed by the city is to be made the subject of a special investigation next week as a result of a dispute yesterday over the claims presented by legal experts in the last two days. Five leading members of the bar, Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Eitelson, said, will be asked to determine the rates by which the attorneys should be paid and what items properly can be charged to the city. The decision to submit the matter of fees to a group outside the city hall was reached yesterday after an inspection of the bills of Sidney Gorham and Allan T. Gilbert, special assistant corporation counsel assigned to the city's transit settlement committee. Their claims and the items which brought the total to $22,449 were revealed as a result of the publication of the five hour a day rate used in figuring the bill of Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein. With this rate in force, Goldstein collected for forty days legal work in April which has only thirty days.

Ask $30 and $20 An Hour. Attorney Gorham, president of the Chicago Bar association, charged the city for his services at the rate of $30 an hour, the bills made public yesterday showed. Attorney Gilbert charged at the rate of $20 an hour.

Conferences with newspaper reporters and editors were noted in the bill of Mr. Gilbert and an item of "call to Eitelson" was shown in the bill of Mr. Gorham. The regular practice of special assistants is said to be not to charge for conveying information to the public through the press or for talks to their employers. The summary of Mr. Gorham's bill is as follows:

Statement rendered March 1, 1929... $5,625
March 1 to April 30, 1929... 1,675
Total... $7,300

Mr. Gilbert's bill is summarized as follows:
Statement rendered Feb. 1, 1929... $2,725
Statement rendered March 1, 1929... 2,775
March 1 to April 30, 1929... 5,815
Total... $11,315

Attorney Gilbert last night said he thought the charges for conferences with newspaper men were proper. He said that as attorney and as secretary for the transit committee appointed by Federal Judge Wilkerson he had given his time to explaining the policy and attitude of the committee in relation to the car bills in order that the public might be informed. "These conferences were held to inform the public of the attitude of the citizens' committee," he said. "The time was spent in the interest of telling the residents of Chicago what the committee was trying to do, and not for personal publicity."

SALTIS PAYS $500 FINE, AND NOW HE IS GOING HUNTING

Joe Saltis, south side bootlegger, decided to stand mute yesterday when charged for possessing booze, and Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward promptly found him guilty of having nineteen cases of Canadian ale in his private garage and fined him $500. Joe paid the fine.

Saltis then announced he was about to start for Europe on a vacation, belated because he was forced to spend sixty days in the Bridewell for gun-toting some time ago. Before he left the federal building Saltis apparently changed his mind about an ocean voyage, for he spoke dreamily of the age, for he spoke dreamily about going to Wisconsin.

The rate charged while the attorneys were in Chicago was based on a five hour day, according to Mr. Gorham. When they were in Springfield they charged on the basis of an eight hour day, he said.

In Springfield he frequently was working in the interests of the bills from 9 a. m. to midnight, and while in Chicago he worked more than five hours some days, Mr. Gorham explained. The same explanation in regard to the numbers of working hours was given in Mr. Goldstein's case. It was said that he has given the city the benefit of ten months' investigation of the affairs of the Illinois Bell Telephone company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company, which he made for other purposes. These studies involved the preparation of a history of both companies since 1850. The city's telephone case, now in federal court, is based primarily on this information and had the city undertaken to gather such evidence at least a year's time would have been required, it was said.

Hits High Cost of Attorneys.

The use of special counsel by the city at rates of $20 and $30 an hour, however, was attacked by Ald. Charles E. Eaton (5th). "The cost for that type of work is excessive," said Ald. Eaton. "Council should be employed on the basis of a yearly salary rather than on the highest per diem rate. With seventy assistants, the corporation counsel should be able to handle all litigation without employing outside aid. It is wasteful and expensive and evidently is going to be continuously recurrent." What the seventy salaried employees do was not made clear. Whenever the city has a need for legal aid there is a call for special attorneys. Formerly Ald. Eaton said, the corporation counsel himself appeared in court in important litigation. Mr. Eitelson, he said, spends his time on interviews and administrative work of another character.

CAR FIGHT RAGES ON TERMINABLE PERMIT CLAUSE

for purchase by the city of its permits, "a terminable permit may contain any other terms or conditions not contrary to or inconsistent with this act or with the lawful exercise of the power of the state to regulate public utilities." These terms, according to the bill, "may include but are not limited to reasonable provisions for specified extensions and additions to lines and facilities, the retirement of investment by amortization or otherwise, or for compensation for the use of public property computed either by some proportion of the receipts from operation or the properties of the grantee, or otherwise."

Walter L. Fisher, who has had even more extensive experience in local transit matters than Mr. Foster, spent several weeks examining the transit bill. In direct opposition to the Foster view, Mr. Fisher wrote Federal Judge Wilkerson two months ago: "The specific mention of provisions for compensation, amortization, and for specified extensions and additions quoted in the proposed bill give the city as much power over such matters as can be granted without unlawful impairment of the police power of the state."

Limit on Legislative Power. "It is the fundamental law of this state that the legislature itself cannot deprive the state of its police power, among which is the power to regulate public utilities. There is, however, authority to support a limited delegation of this power to a municipality within reasonable limitations, where the municipality by ordinance makes a contract with a public utility corporation."

It is the view of Mr. Fisher, as quoted above, that the terminable permit bill has gone the limit in obtaining a delegation of power to the municipality, and he says that the bill is "constitutionally valid and reasonably adequate for the accomplishment of its intended purpose."

It is also the opinion of Mr. Gorham and Allan T. Gilbert, attorneys for the citizens' committee, that the city can make an inviolable contract on amortization under the pending bill. Along the same line Mr. Fisher in his opinion cited a decision of the Illinois Supreme court in support of this following declaration: "The Supreme court of Illinois upheld the provisions in the 1907 ordinances (contracts between the city and surface lines) with respect to the methods therein adopted for fixing the

AMANULLAH QUILTS FIGHT FOR THRONE; TO LIVE IN EUROPE

(Copyright, 1929, by the New York Times.) SIMLA, British India, May 24.—King Amanullah has decided to quit Afghanistan for good and is coming to Europe to swell the number of deposed monarchs living in retirement there. The government of India, according to an official statement issued tonight, has placed a special train at the disposal of Amanullah, who crossed the Indian frontier at Chaman Thursday afternoon with Queen Surayya, his brother, Inayatullah Khan, and other members of his court. They will travel to Bombay, where they will embark for Europe.

The ex-king's decision to leave Afghanistan was taken after the opening of the spring offensive against Amer Habbullah's advance troops and Ghilzai tribesmen at Kalatighilzai on May 21. Amanullah then realized that the Ghilzai tribesmen had definitely thrown in their lot with the usurpers and that further campaigning to regain the throne was futile.

PROFESSIONS ASK REFORM IN STATE LICENSE BOARD

Recommendations agreed upon by representatives of six professions, designed to reform the state department of education and registration, will be ready early next week to be submitted to Gov. Louis L. Emmerson and Michael Walsh of Harvard, Ill., new head of the department, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The professional men's organizations seeking to revamp the license board, which regulates and licenses their members, are led by the Chicago Real Estate board and include those of doctors, dentists, druggists, architects, and optometrists. A collective committee on which all six are represented has drawn up the recommendations.

The "house cleaning" movement was started after A. M. Shelton, former head of the department, resigned several weeks ago, charging that it was "graft ridden" and declaring that he was being made the "goat" for its inefficiency.

Aimee to Take 1,000 of Her Followers to Palestine

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—[Special.]—The Rev. Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson conferred with agents for a steamship company today and announced that she plans to take 1,000 of her followers and her choir from Angeles temple "on the last great crusade" to Palestine for next Easter.

FAHERTY'S BOARD SLAPS ITS O. K. ON SEWER PROJECT

Votes While Taxpayers Claim for Delay.

Overruling the objections of a large group of taxpayers, the board of local improvements yesterday gave its unanimous approval to the construction of a $2,524,000 sewer in Rogers Park. The taxpayers have thirty days in which to file a petition objecting to the improvement, the president of the board, Michael J. Faherty, told them.

The public hearing in the council chambers at which the taxpayers appeared was marked by vociferous demands for delay in considering the project. At the height of the clamor Mr. Faherty turned to the men "ire of the board and asked for a motion to approve the project. The motion was made and received a unanimous vote. The taxpayers, incensed at the action, voiced their determination to halt the proceedings with an injunction.

Need Canal Board O. K.

Other agencies, it was learned, may halt the board's proceedings before the special assessment roll is confirmed in court. The sewer, which will drain the area bounded by Lawrence avenue, Howard and Paulina streets and Sheridan road, has not been approved by the sanitary district, as stated by Joseph McClory, secretary of the board, on Thursday.

Edward J. Kelly, chief engineer of the sanitary district, stated that the project has not been approved by him but that Mr. Faherty had requested a conference for a discussion of the plans.

Want Faring, Not Sowers.

VOLIVA PLANS TO ESTABLISH COLONY SOON IN PALESTINE

Seeking new continents to conquer, Wilbur Glena Voliva, overseer of the Christian Apostolic church at Zion, Ill., is planning to establish a religious community in Palestine, according to a communication received yesterday from Voliva's party, now touring the Holy Land.

Further details of Voliva's plan are expected when he returns to this country within a few weeks. Establishment of a colony in Palestine has been a pet project of Voliva's for years and is believed to have motivated him in the sale of extensive property holdings around Zion to real estate subdividers.

No indication was given that Voliva would abandon the Zion colony. World headquarters of the sect would continue at Zion, it was said. The sect has colonies in Africa, Australia, and China, but these have been inactive in recent years.

trict's system must be submitted to the district's engineers for approval.

At the hearing Ald. John A. Maasen (48th) and E. L. Frankhauser (48th) supported the taxpayers' demand for a delay and engaged in the repartee between Mr. Faherty and the citizens. "The city hall is under suspicion in connection with other improvements," one property owner shouted, while another demanded that the administration "repair the streets instead of instituting new improvements."

Arrested for Phoning In False Report of Shooting

Francis Murphy, 25 years old, 325 North Austin boulevard, was arrested by Sheffield avenue police last night for telephoning to the police a false report of a shooting at 444 Roslyn place which was broadcast over the Chicago TRIBUNE radio station, WGN. The report brought a squad of detectives in a few minutes. Eric Berquist, a watchman at 444 Roslyn place, also charged Murphy with tampering with shrubbery. Louis R. Morgan, 31 North La Verne avenue, and Edward Kelly, 2750 Pine Grove avenue, companions of Murphy, were also arrested for tampering with shrubbery.

Litsinger Mail Robbery Trial to Be Set Monday

The date for the trial of Virgil Litsinger for mail robbery will be set Monday, District Attorney George H. Q. Johnson said yesterday. Litsinger is charged with complicity in the Evergreen Park robbery for which Charles Clayver and several others are serving prison sentences.

In The Gay Nineties

The old Palmer House was noted for its "corned beef 'n cabbage"—everyone knew of Billy Boyle's "steaks and chops," while Kinsley's was headquarters for wonderful "country cured ham and bacon."

Robert's SWEETMEAT Hams and Bacon

were in their infancy then, but had already attracted the attention of the connoisseurs who pronounced them perfect! Ever since we have adhered to our original policy—quality first! From the purchase of the live porkers—the pick of the West's choicest offerings, to the finished product no expense is spared that will enhance their goodness. Robert's Sweetmeat sugar cured and hickory smoked hams and bacon are even better today than they were back "in the gay '90's."

EXPERTS REVEAL POISON GAS PERIL TO POPULATIONS

No Stop Taken to Protect Civilians, Report Shows.

BERLIN, May 24.—(AP)—Anti-gas measures in modern warfare are characterized as a delusion by the investigating "international committee of Red Cross experts" which recently convened in Brussels.

In the "German Women Doctor's Monthly" Dr. Gertrude Woker described how the committee's investigations clearly proved that for the civilian population in a war of the future no protection existed. The utility of seeking such protective measures, she said, was apparent from the fact that all nations are busy producing new forms of gas which they are carefully keeping secret from each other.

Naval New Gas Shells.
As to the progress made in this most devastating form of warfare, the Red Cross was able to glean such startling enlightenment. It was learned, for instance, that shells with flammable gas being used which when dropped from airplanes bury themselves in the earth, but do not explode until after four, six, eight or twelve or even 18 hours later. Against such deadly missiles even the best organized rescue squads would prove unavailing.

Moreover, every military attack of the future, the Red Cross experts believe, will comprise at least three different kinds of arms, each of which renders the protective measure for one incompatible for the other. A gas mask is not only not protective against corrosive, but individuals affected by such a corrosive poison must also be excluded from dugouts to prevent others from being infected by them.

Perils of Mustard Gas.
"Let us assume," writes Dr. Woker, "that the frantically hurrying refugees who have not been trampled underfoot in the panic have finally reached such a haven against gas attacks. But instead of diving down into safety they will be confronted by a sign prohibiting those among them infected with mustard gas from entering the dugout, and who like outcasts will be banished from one place of safety to another."

For mustard gas is a corrosive that cannot be wiped off, but on the contrary, is diffused over a large area when touched. A single carrier of mustard gas suffices to infect all the inmates of a dugout, as no protective clothing or mask against mustard gas exists.

PORTES GIL ENDS STUDENTS' STRIKE IN MEXICO CITY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MEXICO CITY, May 24.—President Portes Gil today gave a totally new angle to the students' strike, which threatened to sweep into revolt all universities and higher schools of the republic, when he ordered all police and firemen withdrawn from schools where the strike has been on for several days.

The move leaves the schools in control of the students, placing them on their honor to care for school property, conduct themselves properly, and to meet and formulate demands and submit them directly to him.

Yesterday several students were severely injured in a clash with the police and thirty-six arrests were made. This morning Valente Quintana, head of the police handling the student strike, had a long conference with the president in the national palace, out of which came the president's order to leave the students in full control of the schools. The students opposed the imposition of American methods in examination, and especially objected to the monthly examination imposed by the Rectore Alfonso Castro Leal, a graduate of Georgetown university of Washington.

FIND 3 CHILDREN DEAD, MOTHER DYING, ALL WITH THROATS CUT

Lebanon, Ky., May 24.—(AP)—Apparently worried over financial troubles, a mother who yesterday said she "would not go through another day like this" today kept her word, taking three of her children with her in death.

The mother, Mrs. Marie Shoy Shoy, was found dying in a cemetery here today and near her were the bodies of Tom, 2; Ina, 7 and Catherine, 11, her children, all with throats cut. The mother apparently had killed the children, then cut her own throat. She died soon after being found.

Groans coming under a tarpaulin in the cemetery led two Negro youths to the dying woman, she pointed weakly to a field nearby, where the bodies of the children were found. Mrs. Shoy was the wife of Carey Shoy, lumber company employee.

CARUSO FAMILY TANGLES COURT; ALL GET JAILED

Defendants Can't Be Identified.

The courtroom of Judge William J. Lindsay in the Criminal Court yesterday was filled with persons named Caruso, yesterday and the perplexed judge, after spending some time trying to decide which Caruso was which, ordered them all locked up in the county jail until things can be straightened out.

The cases of Frank Caruso, charged with attempting to rob a street car conductor, and of Dominick Caruso, charged with burglarizing a dress shop, who was seeking for probation, and a member of the committee of railroad administration, was another accused.

The third man shot was Baltachinski, former vice minister of trade and industry under the Kerevsky government and director of defense at the winter palace when the bolsheviks were in power. He was charged with being a member of the committee of railroad administration, was another accused.

Although the soviet government has several times announced a curtailment of the power of the cheka, decreeing that persons accused of capital crimes shall have court trial, the executions are announced by the cheka in a brief communication stating that counter-revolutionary activities of the prisoners had been proved.

Information provided their agents, it claimed, showed that the prisoners were at the head of a huge plot aimed to paralyze the Russian railways, sabotage the gold and platinum industries, and establish a capitalist form of government in Russia with the aid of foreign power. The acting chief of the cheka, Yegor, ordered the prisoners shot early yesterday morning.

The Battle press comments that the execution proves the cheka still is the mightiest power in Russia, alleging the charges against the accused are ridiculous and the real purpose of the latest bolshevik murders was to further intimidate persons belonging to the old intelligent classes who have accepted soviet posts and whom the cheka blames for the economic chaos in Russia today.

Two Convicted of Arson for Fatal Fire in Store

Jacob Shuster, owner of a dry goods store at 3015 South State street, and Morris Weiner, 1148 South Albany avenue, were found guilty of arson yesterday by a jury in Judge John L. Sullivan's Criminal Court. The conviction carries penalties of 1 to 10 years each in the penitentiary. Samuel Weiner was hanged to death in the building by the fire, which, the state charged, was the result of a plot to collect insurance. The fire occurred on July 15, 1919.

SOVIET KILLINGS SHOW CHEKA IS STILL ON JOB

Execute Former Czarists
Without Trial.

BY DONALD DAY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
RIGA, Latvia, May 24.—The Battle press is horrified at the official report from Moscow confirming the execution without trial of three Russians of national prominence. All were more than sixty years of age, and after evading the Red terror during the early years of bolshevism worked their way up to high positions under the soviet regime before they fell victims to typical cheka provocation.

The former president of the Moscow railroad, Von Meck, who headed the list of accused, was one of the richest men in Russia before the revolution and at the time of his arrest was chairman of the committee of construction of the commissariat of communication.

Was Aided to Chek.
A former noble, Wellitschko, who was chief of the Russian transport during the Czar's regime and who under the bolsheviks became a member of the board of aviation engineers and a member of the committee of railroad administration, was another accused.

In a copyright story printed in the Washington Post tomorrow there is the added statement that Mr. Carter had sent to President Hoover the letter from Sir Esme Howard with a demand that "necessary steps be taken immediately to accept the proposal of the British ambassador."

Mr. Carter is quoted as saying today: "I called attention of the British ambassador to the shameful abuse of diplomatic immunity in regard to importation of wines and liquors. The ambassador, to my surprise and satisfaction, replied in a very courteous letter."

He further was quoted as saying that the correspondence in the hands of President Hoover. It is understood that he said in his letter that he was enclosing a clipping showing a truckload of alcoholic liquors being transported to the British embassy and that he further appealed to Sir Esme "to join hands with the better element of the people of the United States to see that this drunkenness and whiskey drinking cease in conformity to the prohibition laws of the country."

Brandel stepped out of the way of a south bound train and walked in front of the north bound train.

GIRL TESTIFIES FOR FATHER WHO SLEW HER MATE

Tragic Romance Related
on Witness Stand.

Amarillo, Tex., May 24.—(AP)—Recalled to her father, whose pistol made her a widow, Teresa Hamilton Walton, 19, today testified for the parent, R. H. Hamilton, in his appeal for habeas corpus release under bond from a murder indictment returned after he killed Tom Walton Jr., the girl's 21 year old husband. Her testimony lasted only ten minutes.

The shooting occurred when Walton visited Hamilton at his law office to tell of his secret marriage with Teresa. He went there upon the advice of his mother to "tell the judge all about it." Mrs. Walton had told him she thought Hamilton would "be sensible."

Teresa told of marrying against her father's will. It was in February, while she and the boy she loved were students at the University of Texas.

Father Urged Postponement.
She had talked with her father early in the spring about her love for Walton, but Hamilton advised against marrying until they both were out of school and Walton had employment. Hamilton did not object to the marriage if postponed, she declared.

Walton was leaving school to come to Amarillo and wanted to have the ceremony before he left Austin, she said. She wanted to defer it, but finally consented, with the understanding it would be kept a secret.

She said she met Walton last Thanksgiving, and that their romance dated from that time.

Additional Evidence Possible.
Hamilton, prominent Amarillo attorney and former judge on the Texas Supreme court's appeals commission, did not know yet tonight whether his application for freedom pending his trial would be granted. Court recessed suddenly this afternoon until tomorrow. E. W. Thomas, district attorney, announced the state might introduce additional evidence tomorrow.

H. G. Hendricks, Hamilton's law partner, testified that Hamilton had told him on several occasions prior to the shooting that young Walton had threatened his life.
Dr. J. H. Vaughn, who examined Walton's body soon after the shooting, testified Walton was shot twice in the back.

U. S. DUCHESS' SON SHOOT'S HIMSELF OVER FRENCH GIRL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, May 24.—Howard de Talleyrand, Prince of Sagan, 18 year old son of the Duke and Duchess de Talleyrand, the latter formerly Anna Gould, is in grave condition tonight as a result of shooting himself last Saturday in his parents' home in the Avenue Malesherbes of the fashionable Pansy district of Paris.

Howard had fallen in love with a French girl whom he met while at school in the south of France, and wished to marry her. His parents objected that he was too young. When he came home for the holidays a week ago, Howard renewed his demand for parental permission, but his father and mother insisted that he wait until he was 21.

Young Talleyrand was found later with a bullet wound in his chest. A successful operation for the removal of the bullet was performed. Fluorid has now set in and the youth's condition today took an alarming turn for the worse.

School Trustees Approve New Civil Service Bill

The board of education yesterday adopted a resolution approving a proposed bill presented by Trustees Mrs. W. S. Heffernan which would create a civil service commission in the Chicago school system independent of the city commission which now regulates school board employees. The bill will be sent to Springfield Monday.

Mrs. Heffernan's bill was offered as a result of the refusal of the city civil service commission to incorporate educational requirements in qualifications for school clerks and various other classes of board employees.

HIGHER DUTIES, BUT FARM GROUP IS NOT SATISFIED

Vote Increases on Butter,
Cattle, Other Products.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 24.—(Special.)—Higher duties on a few farm commodities were voted today by the house, but the increases failed to satisfy the agricultural groups completely.

Numerous committee amendments to the tariff bill were adopted, the house Republican machine functioning smoothly.

The special rule preventing separate action on such controversial items as sugar and building materials was adopted by the house by a vote of 214 to 195. Only twelve Republicans voted against the rule and only five Democrats favored it. Otherwise, party lines were drawn tightly.

The Democrats and a few Republicans severely assailed the rule, but the log rolling and trading by Republican groups gave the party leaders a combination which was strong enough to withstand all opposition.

Under the rule as adopted the only paragraphs of the bill which are subject to separate action are those to which the ways and means committee proposes amendments.

Increases Provided.
Increases approved by the house in duties on farm commodities affected butter, dried skimmed milk, and cattle.

The butter rate was increased from 12 cents per pound to 14 cents per pound, as carried in the original Hawley bill to 14 cents per pound. The duty on butter substitutes was raised to the same figure.

The duty on dried skimmed milk was increased from 14 cents to 15 cents per pound. Duties on cattle were increased from 15 cents to 20 cents per pound and from 15 to 20 cents per pound, the weight limit between the two classes being reduced from 1,000 to 800 pounds.

Republicans from Wisconsin and other dairy states vainly protested against the inadequacy of the increase in butter. Representative Merlin Hull (Rep., Wis.) offered an amendment to increase the rate to 19 cents, and when this was rejected he presented an amendment for a 15 cents duty, which also was voted down overwhelmingly.

The different groups who figured in the deals making possible the blocking of action in the house on sugar and building materials stood with the ways and means committee in opposition to these amendments, thus preventing any modifications in the proposals as presented by the committee.

Eastern Men Oppose Increase.
Spokesmen for eastern consumers opposed the increased farm rates on the ground that they would boost the cost of living. Representative F. H. La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.) objected to any increase in the duty on butter. He sought to reduce the duty on beef and veal, which was doubled, in the pending bill, but his amendment was ruled out on a point of order.

Mrs. Mary T. Norton (Dem., N. J.) attacked the increased duties on cattle. She asserted that the higher rates would benefit chiefly the packers. The price of steak, she said, is already beyond the reach of working men.

The higher duties on cattle do not provide the full increase originally asked by farm organizations. Republicans from fifteen cattle raising states, however, were fairly well pleased to obtain any increase in view of the fact that the bill as originally reported retained the duties of the present law.

Besides acting on a few of the changes in agricultural rates proposed by the ways and means committee, the house adopted various committee amendments to the chemical, metal, earthenware, cotton and sundries schedules.

Duty on Suede Cotton Gloves.
An amendment imposing a duty of 60 per cent on suede cotton gloves, which were placed on the free list in the original bill, was adopted without opposition. Representative Frank Crowther (Rep., N. Y.), a member of the ways and means committee, told the house that the American suede cotton glove industry is already virtually dead and cannot be revived with a duty as low as 60 per cent. A shifting of the rate on oleic acid and stearic acid from 15 cents per pound to 25 per cent ad valorem will have the effect of doubling the protection on these chemicals, according to an explanation made by Representative L. H. Haderly (Rep., Wash.). The house approved the amendments after protests by Democrats.

An amendment increasing the duty on matches from 11 to 20 per cent was adopted. There was considerable laughter when Representative Crowther presented an amendment from the committee making a reduction in duty. It cut the rate on bristles from 7 to 8 cents per pound.

Childhood Defends Report.
Representative Carl Chidholm (Rep., Ill.), a member of the ways and means committee, defended the committee bill and insisted that agriculture has received greater increases in duties than industry.

The duties in the present bill on all commodities, according to Mr. Chidholm, are the equivalent of an average of 35.51 per cent ad valorem, as compared with 34.78 per cent in the 1923 act. Agricultural rates alone in the present bill, he said, are the equivalent of an average of 54.17 per cent, as compared with 49.31 per cent in 1923.

"Generally speaking," said Mr. Chidholm, "the duties on manufactured products have been increased about 10 per cent, and the duties on agricultural products about 35 per cent."

WIFE "COURTED" BY DRY AGENT WINS DIVORCE
Mrs. Cornelia Anzalone, 1641 Junior terrace, wife of Pete Anzalone, who was arrested after a fight with a prohibition agent for paying attention to his wife, won a divorce yesterday before Superior Judge Joseph Gebhart. Mrs. Anzalone charged cruelty.

Three weeks ago Anzalone met Edward Morland, the dry agent, in the La Salle street station. He had learned that Morland was courting his wife while he was visiting in Italy. In the altercation which followed Morland drew a revolver, but was disarmed by a railroad detective. The gun was returned when the agent identified himself.

Morland then arrested Anzalone as a bootlegger. The husband was released the following day and Morland was suspended, pending an investigation. He admitted that he had frequently been in the wife's company but denied that he had known she was married.

bill and insisted that agriculture has received greater increases in duties than industry.

The duties in the present bill on all commodities, according to Mr. Chidholm, are the equivalent of an average of 35.51 per cent ad valorem, as compared with 34.78 per cent in the 1923 act. Agricultural rates alone in the present bill, he said, are the equivalent of an average of 54.17 per cent, as compared with 49.31 per cent in 1923.

"Generally speaking," said Mr. Chidholm, "the duties on manufactured products have been increased about 10 per cent, and the duties on agricultural products about 35 per cent."

WIFE "COURTED" BY DRY AGENT WINS DIVORCE
Mrs. Cornelia Anzalone, 1641 Junior terrace, wife of Pete Anzalone, who was arrested after a fight with a prohibition agent for paying attention to his wife, won a divorce yesterday before Superior Judge Joseph Gebhart. Mrs. Anzalone charged cruelty.

Three weeks ago Anzalone met Edward Morland, the dry agent, in the La Salle street station. He had learned that Morland was courting his wife while he was visiting in Italy. In the altercation which followed Morland drew a revolver, but was disarmed by a railroad detective. The gun was returned when the agent identified himself.

Morland then arrested Anzalone as a bootlegger. The husband was released the following day and Morland was suspended, pending an investigation. He admitted that he had frequently been in the wife's company but denied that he had known she was married.

SHERIFF TOLD TO END PARTISAN JOB SHIFTING AT JAIL

Hire New Guards Is the Advice of Judges.

Sheriff John E. Trager was advised yesterday by Judges John P. McGorby and Joseph B. David that he should appoint 21 additional guards to the county jail staff and rectify as far as possible the situation brought about by his constant shifting of the jail employees in order to make room for job holders recommended by the regular Democratic organization.

The conditions brought about by the sheriff in using the jail as a political dumping ground for men who lost out in the shakeup of the sanitary district, are blamed by some of the Criminal court judges for the nervous breakdown of Warden Edward J. Fogarty, now a patient in the Washington Park hospital. Dr. Constantine Theodoros reported the warden's condition as improved yesterday.

Employees Constantly Shifting.
The warden has been confronted not only by a constant shifting of his employees, but also by the fact that Anton J. Cernak and his county board have failed to provide him with the necessary number of employees to operate the new jail.

When the handful of trained jail guards remaining after the shifts made at the orders of the sheriff threatened to quit unless conditions were remedied, a committee of Criminal court judges was appointed to look into the situation. This committee recommended that a minimum of 42 more employees should be given to the warden to operate the new jail, which is spread over six times the territory occupied by the old structure.

Total Cut in Jail.
For some unexplained reason the help committee of the Circuit court cut this recommendation in half, authorizing the employment of 21 extra guards. The county board announced no funds to pay the new men and referred the situation to State's Attorney Swanson for an opinion as to whether provision could be made for the new help after the budget was once passed. In the meantime the jail guards have worked seven days a week since April 1 with no prospects of their annual vacation.

Cernak and his associates can find money to put in plants, shrubbery and other things around this building, but can't find money to give us human working conditions," commented one jail employee as he watched a gang of men at work landscaping and beautifying the grounds adjacent to the new structure.

Opinion of Judge.
"Conditions in the jail for the employees are intolerable," said Judge McGorby. "Judge David and myself advised the sheriff that it is his duty to go ahead and employ the men authorized by the committee on help and that it is up to the county board to pay them."

The escape yesterday of Herbert Dodson, a 4 foot Negro dishwasher from the jury quarters, is blamed on the lack of guards. No guard is available to watch the trustees employed in this building and Dodson, who had 21 more days of a six month sentence for assault to serve, walked away unnoticed.

It was pointed out yesterday that Sheriff Trager replaced more than two-thirds of the staff of guards. Many of these men stay a day or two, maybe a week, and then leave when they find that Warden Fogarty does not operate on a political basis.

AVIATION NOTES

The lake front airport subcommittee of the city council yesterday voted to proceed with plans for the construction of an island airport in the lake between 14th and 21st street by using cables and rubble as filler. Following the adoption of the motion, Maj. Reed Landis, secretary of the Chicago aeronautics commission, protested the plan on the ground that it would take too long.

Ald. Arthur P. Albert objected to Aid. John A. Mammen's plan to extend the tunnel of the Chicago Tunnel company to the proposed airport site and to use the tunnel in handling refuse to the lake front. Aid. Albert demanded that the city take over the tunnels. Aid. James B. Bowler objected to definite action until an amended ordinance affecting the territory between Randolph street and Roosevelt road had been acted upon by the committee. Aid. Edward J. Kalind, chairman of the railway terminals committee, said that the amended ordinance provided for the elimination of a subway under use railroad tracks at 18th street and also eliminated the provision for the widening of East 23d and East 31st street. The committee decided to use refuse in building the airport and will take up the matter of transportation at a later meeting.

William McFall, acting operations manager of the Universal Air Lines, yesterday announced that a shipment of 10 trimmers and single engine Fokker planes will be delivered here the first of next week.

Fifty Chicago sales managers returned to Chicago yesterday morning in the first of five transport planes which flew them to Milwaukee Thursday afternoon.

Cpl. E. H. Egerton of the Northwest Airways stopped in Chicago for a few hours yesterday on his way to Washington to attend the conference of air mail operators. He announced that additional service will be inaugurated over the Northwest line between Chicago and St. Paul because of the increase in passengers using the line. A passenger plane, he said, will fly daily over the Chicago-Milwaukee-St. Paul mail route. Passenger planes now fly from Chicago to Rochester, Minn., and to St. Paul.

The new 235,000 hangar of the Universal Air Lines at Cleveland will be opened June 1. It was announced yesterday. The hangar includes an observation tower, pilots headquarters, and a waiting room for passengers in addition to storage space. It has been built large enough to house the new 21 passenger Fokker plane when it is finished next month.

FINANCIER SEES BROAD FUTURE FOR AIR TRAVEL
Aviation is due for broad development within the next two years, according to James C. Willson, aviation financier of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Willson looks for the biggest development in commercial air transportation. He predicted that consolidation would bring the majority of aviation interests within five or six outstanding groups within the next two years.

Mr. Willson is president of the finance company which bears his name and director of Transcontinental Air Transport, Curtiss Flying service, National Aviation corporation and Curtiss Aeroplane Export corporation. He flew here yesterday in the Country Boy, his Sikorsky amphibian, to speak on the subject of aviation criticism before a group of Chicago curriers.

Attorney Edwin J. Raber, who acted as special prosecutor during the trial of the Eller henchmen, held a conference yesterday with State Attorney John A. Swanson and his first assistant, John E. Northrup, relative to the charges of perjury and jury fixing resulting from the latest acquittal of the henchmen.

The prosecutors refused to divulge what plans if any had been made to punish the attempt to "fix" Michael Hepp by Paul Harders, a Denoon precinct committeeman. They also refused to discuss the charges made by Raber on Thursday to the effect that Swanson, if he desired a successful administration, must spend the next six months in ferreting out and punishing perjury and jury fixing.

Judge Frank Conard indicated that he would give the prosecutor's office a few weeks' time to act on the charges and that if progress was not reported that he might then resort to the inadequate measures of contempt of court for so serious a crime.

OPPNENTS OPEN NEW ATTACK ON PROF. ELY'S BOOK

Charging that the text of Prof. Richard T. Ely's "Elementary Principles of Economics" is colored by propaganda for real estate interests and public utilities, the Education Protective Association of America, Inc., through its secretary, Emil O. Jorgensen, yesterday addressed a letter to Superintendent of Schools Bogan renewing demands that the book be removed from the approved list for use in Chicago schools.

According to Mr. Jorgensen, a questionnaire directed to high school principals revealed that the book is in use in some schools, although Sept. Bogan moved this in a letter to the association last month.

The association bases its opposition to the book on allegations that Prof. Ely, of Northwestern university, was influenced in preparing his textbook by subsidies from "big business" interests.

BOY, 10, MISSING NINE DAYS.
Harry Keir Jr., 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keir, 3635 5th avenue, disappeared from home nine days ago. He was last seen by his mother, when he went out to play in the afternoon. He was wearing a light coat, dark pants, and a brown cap.

ALLIED-GERMAN DEADLOCK HOLDS ON REPARATIONS

May Stall Until After the British Election.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Staff Service.]
PARIS, May 24.—Little progress has been made during the last forty-eight hours toward making the allied reply coincide with Germany's reservations to the Owen D. Young plan for a final settlement of the reparations problem. The belief now exists that the German delegates are now determined to stall the decision until after the British elections Sunday and the English elections Thursday.

It is pointed out that if the Socialist, E. Vandervelde, should become premier in Brussels and Ramsay MacDonald or David Lloyd George becomes the British prime minister Germany has a chance of obtaining better terms than under the present régime.

It is also pointed out that the financial difference between the starting date for the operation of the new plan and the Dawes plan over which the Germans and the allies are now at odds, only amounts to $12,775,000 a year. This is not a direct charge against the German budget, but merely affects present values.

Germans Want Young Plan.

[Chicago Tribune Staff Service.]
BERLIN, May 24.—"Get back to the Young plan," was the order issued following a long conference of the German cabinet this afternoon. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht was informed that the government under no circumstances would go beyond Owen D. Young's plan and was absolutely opposed to any raising in the amount of annuities. He was told the negotiations must continue. The government was greatly encouraged by Paris reports indicating that Mr. Young had told the allies he does not agree with many of their proposals which he finds inconsistent with his plan.

ASSAIL QUINLAN FOR MOVING TO DELAY VIADUCT

Maj. George A. Quinlan, county highway superintendent, was assailed yesterday at a meeting of the roads and bridges committee of the county board for advocating further delay on the 5,500 foot bridge and viaduct over the Calumet river and multiple railroad tracks at 148th street and Burnham avenue. The improvement was recently assured when three railroads agreed to share the cost with the county.

In a letter to the committee, Maj. Quinlan suggested that the bids be submitted to the railroads for approval. This position drew an attack from Commissioner John W. Jansowski, mayor of Calumet City, which will be benefited by the improvement.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL SLAIN IN WOODS NEAR HER HOME

Is Attacked Returning from School.

Fort Bragg, Cal., May 24.—(AP)—The body of six year old Theresa Johnson of Mendocino was found in a clearing near her home this morning. An autopsy late today revealed that the child had been attacked and strangled to death. Sheriff's posse tonight searched the woods south of this city for the man that killed her.

The crime was discovered after a searching party of 150 lumbermen, headed by the child's father, S. D. Johnson, had hunted throughout the night for her. She had failed to return home from school yesterday.

The girl's clothes had been torn off and her mouth was cut and bruised as from a heavy blow. Fingermarks on her throat indicated the manner in which she was slain.

The slayer evidently came upon the unsuspecting child from behind as she walked through the woods from school. Stifling her screams with his hands, the "attacker" dragged her through the brush to the clearing and then choked her to death.

Near the body, which had been thrown across a log, searchers found her hat. School books and her lunch box had been wrapped in her coat and placed on a rock 100 yards away.

ROB MESSENGER OF $80,000 ON WAY TO BANK

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 24.—(AP)—Five robbers held up a messenger of the American First National bank here today and escaped with a money satchel containing between $80,000 and $100,000.

Charles M. Vowell, 21, the messenger, was shot in the arm by one of the two men who leaped on the running board of his automobile as he made a traffic stop in front of the postoffice. One of the robbers seized the messenger's satchel and with his companion carried it to a car driven by a third man which had followed the messenger.

A fourth member of the band, who stood at the corner with a shotgun holding passersby at bay, leaped into the bandit car as it drove away. Vowell was shot when he attempted to reach for his revolver. The robbers escaped without being fired on.

Seven Bandits Arrive at Office Too Late for $3,500

(Picture on back page.)
The tardiness of seven robbers yesterday afternoon caused them to miss the $3,500 pay roll of the Eugene Dietzen company, 254 Fullerton avenue, by twenty minutes. The robbers entered the office with drawn revolvers and demanded the money of Miss Anna Knoesler, 29 years old, 2434 School street. They were told by Miss Knoesler that the pay roll had been delivered and were shown an empty bag to convince them. They then fled.

BOY HIT BY STREET CAR.
Bernard Greber, 9 years old, 677 North Clark street, was knocked down by a street car at Clark and Ontario streets yesterday. At the Herroin hospital his injuries were pronounced serious.

Here's Where an Ounce of Prevention May Be Only Cure

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A book on the care of babies, by Mrs. Carolyn "Conard" Fox Sherrill, an internationally known authority on the subject, can be had at the Chicago Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, in 50 cents.

Yesterday's article was an attempt to protect the feelings of children who have some physical peculiarity—not children who are deformed, but those who in some way are not quite perfect.

What I want to say today won't suggest ways to protect the children. It will suggest taking means to prevent their feelings from needing protection.

If you think over in just a casual way the physical peculiarities children have you realize that many of them are preventable. Whether they are prevented is up to the parents, of course.

The teeth, for instance. First teeth should be watched. Permanent teeth can be straightened.

Crossed eyes can be corrected with glasses and sometimes cured in childhood.

Excessive overweight, as well as extreme underweight, should be brought to the attention of a physician. Diet may control some of this. The lack of activity or too great activity of certain glands accounts for various physical defects in children and this can often be controlled.

Children who are much too short at one age frequently make it up another. Still, a physician's advice should be sought where the stature gives real cause for worry.

A child need no longer have ears that stand out. These can be trained to lie flat in babyhood.

The shape of the nose, lips, arch of the teeth, and position of the teeth may all be affected by excessive adenoids and unhealthy tonsils. Early enough removal, where the conditions warrant it, has been known to correct all these difficulties.

Bowed legs, which are becoming more and more rare in children, are another condition frequently preventable. Where they are due to rickets, proper treatment, consisting of such simple things as diet and sunshine or sunshine substitutes, achieves astonishing results.

Children are entitled to the best start it lies within our power to give them. Most parents can take the preventive measures which help a child to get a good start in life. Some may say "I cannot afford those things." But this country has increasingly great facilities for giving advice and treatment at little or no cost for children whose parents are living on small incomes.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS

This stunning dress chooses plain full black silk crepe with the vest of eggshell silk crepe, with the applied band in a deeper shade, which is used also for the huge bow at the end of the surplice closing bodice. It has a youthful, sophisticated, circular flaring skirt, with dipping sides. It affects a hip poke through the clever cut and slight blousing at each side above the waistline. Lapped red crepe crêpe, self-trimmed, printed silk crepe with plain crepe, or flow-ered chiffon would be lovely.

The pattern, 2764, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 34, 36, 38 and 42 inches bust measure. Skirt requires 2 1/2 yards of 46 inch material, with 3/4 yard of 36 inch contrasting.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Public Opinion

FARM and GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

There still are many dairymen who do not feed grain to their cows in summer, but depend entirely on green pastures. Dairy authorities generally are agreed that it is just as important to give a milk cow a balanced ration in summer as in winter, and are recommending the feeding of grain. Grain in the summer ration is needed to keep up the high production records.

A Kansas station man points out that grain feeding always is more expensive than roughage or pasture feeding. If grain feeding is more expensive than roughage or pasture, there can be only one reason for its use and that is to supply nutriment that the heavy producing cow cannot get from the roughage or pasture, he explained.

J. W. Linn of Manhattan, Kas., says that profit from dairy cows is linked so closely with high production that it is impossible to separate them. The cow producing 400 pounds of fat is making two and a half times as much profit as the one making 200 pounds of fat.

He advises dairy farmers that at the present time grass is rank and succulent and the grain ration can well be lighter in protein. The grain ration that will usually be found most profitable at this time of the year is two parts of corn to one part of oats or bran. This will be true until the grass begins to dry up or grow short.

It is important to again increase the protein part of the grain ration.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsuitable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Amy Day, The Tribune, Chicago.

Billy, aged 8, keeps his puppy chained to the clothesline so that he can run and play, but not get out on the street.

His neighbor, tiny Fatsy, is afraid of the puppy, as it jumps up on her whenever it isn't tied.

A few days ago Fatsy, seeing the puppy loose, called, "Say, Billy's mamma, please hang the puppy on the clothesline, so I can come over."

Virginia called to Mary in another room, "Let's play school, Mary."

"All right," came the answer, "mark me absent!"

WEEK GROUND FOR NEW YORK'S SUPER AUTO WAY

Complete 15 Million Road on Stilts in 2 Years.

BY TOM PETTET.

Chicago Tribune Press Service.
New York, May 24.—(Special.)—The city of New York is planning to build a new highway, the first of its kind, which will be a complete 15 million road on stilts in 2 years.

The highway is planned to be 15 million road on stilts in 2 years. The highway is planned to be 15 million road on stilts in 2 years. The highway is planned to be 15 million road on stilts in 2 years.

Today's ceremony marked the beginning of work on the first contract of the highway. It is a $4,500,000 contract and calls for erection of the highway from Canal to West 22d street. The completed highway will cost more than $15,000,000.

When the work is done motorists will be untroubled by trolley cars or crossings. The new bridge over "the river" will take care of 8,000 cars an hour at a 35 mile an hour speed. The highway is to be raised 18 feet above the surface and will run the full length from seventy to eighty feet wide.

There will be twin 30 foot roadways, one for upturn and one for downturn traffic. Ramps will be set at all important street intersections. Steel walls will protect the motorists on either side, and there will be a six foot walk dividing the two.

Gala Musical Chain Program Pleases Elmer

Elman and Tibbett Lead
List of Soloists.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Something like a gala affair was the special New York N. P. C. chain broadcast through KTW, 930 to 11 last evening, when one soloist of note, several soloists of lesser note, and several orchestras were emceed to fill a merry musical bill.

The one celebrity, as my estimation of celebrities goes, was Misha Elman, a violinist. He only played one number, a concert arrangement of "Sibelius' 'Valse Triste,'" which was done with great gusto in general and with sublime beauty. The performance was also noteworthy for the tonal surge and recordings in volume strength, and the many changes in color quality.

Another superb performance was that of Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, who sang with great dramatic intensity the "Toreador" song from "Carmen." This number was heightened by the accompaniment of a chorus and orchestra. Another soloist whose work was enjoyable and praiseworthy was Hilda Lashansky, lyric soprano. Her number, "Aloha," was sung beautifully and the accompanying orchestral arrangement was both novel and attractive. Of the symphony orchestra selections, "In a Monastery Garden" (Kotzebue) deserves special mention.

Of the many strictly popular offerings on the program there's no use of going into even a lukewarm rage against them. It would be wasting time, energy, and space. The public wants them, and the public gets them. But here is Jesse Crawford, an accomplished organist. He is certainly capable of playing the great works in organ literature. The instrument he plays on is costly, orchestral in scope, and responsive to the ebb and flow of the great works written for it. However, it was "Carolina Moon" that Mr. Crawford played and that the organ produced. Lovely, colorful, interesting.

The symphony orchestra concert from WLS, 8 to 10, was admirable. The second movement of "Raff's 'Lento' symphony gave us an introduction to Raff's "Colossus" overture and many other selections good to hear were played. W-G-N's program was of a popular nature, with many of them a complex note by the station's symphony orchestra being sounded.

W-G-N's real program did not occur last evening, but on Thursday evening, when the Musical Melange concert was given.

"DIAMOND PETE" VOISTOWSKY DIES; FUNERAL TODAY

Peter Voistowsky, known as "Diamond Pete" in the old days on the south side, will be buried today in Oakwood cemetery. He died on Thursday at Augustana Home for the Aged, 7412 Stony Island avenue.

He was born in Poland and came to America as a boy. In 1882, after he had served in the union army as a courier, he came to Chicago. He began business here as an optician, with a fashionable clientele. Instead of banking his gains, he put them in diamonds. Thus he acquired a famous collection of blue, white, and yellow gems which he kept in a vault in the First National bank, which he visited frequently.

After the death of his wife two years ago Voistowsky lived at the Palmer house, according to Sister Ingrid Anderson, mother of Augustana home, he came there six months ago when he needed nursing care. Even in the last weeks of his illness he refused to let any one attend to his business, but insisted often on going himself to the bank vault.

His nearest relatives are nephews, Dr. Annapolis Voistowsky, eye and ear specialist, and Perry H. Voistowsky, both of New York. In Chicago he had only one relative by marriage, a nephew, Delmont Feilhausen, 5815 Race street. It is not known whether anything is left of the fortune he once held in diamonds.

MRS. WHITMAN, 70, WIDOW OF JOLIET WARDEN, IS DEAD

Mrs. Anna Whitman, widow of John L. Whitman, former warden of Joliet penitentiary and well known penologist, died yesterday morning in her home, 3253 Polk street. She was 70 years old.

Mrs. Whitman had been in failing health since her husband died in December, 1918. She and her husband's friends attributed his death to a broken heart following his discharge from the wardenship by Len Small, who was then governor.

During her husband's régime at Joliet and previously when he was warden at the Cook county jail, Mrs. Whitman became known as a leader in the prison reform movement. She had always taken a great interest in the work and assisted the warden in meeting many of the problems connected with the supervision of the convicts.

MRS. DINGEE, 86, OLD RESIDENT OF WILMETTE, DIES

The body of Mrs. Nellie Dingee, who settled in Wilmette in 1858, fourteen years before that village was incorporated, and had lived there ever since, will arrive in Chicago at 7:30 o'clock this morning aboard a train from Chattanooga, Tenn., where she died on Thursday en route from Florida.

She was returning by motor to her home at 925 Lake avenue, Wilmette, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Annie Dingee, a physician and a nurse, when an illness she recently suffered grew worse. She died in the Road house, Chattanooga, Tenn. She was 86 years old.

Mrs. Dingee was the widow of Samuel M. Dingee, founder of a pickle business, who died thirty years ago. Surviving are three sons, Samuel S. of Waukegan, Wis.; Charles S. of Wilmette; and W. W. Dingee of Kell, Minn.; two daughters, Annie of Wilmette and Mrs. L. F. Berry of Oak Park; fifteen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. ROSENWALD WILL BE PRIVATE

Funeral services for Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, who died Thursday afternoon, will be strictly private, with only members of the family in attendance, according to the expressed wish of Mrs. Rosenwald before her death. It was announced yesterday.

Dr. Louis L. Mann of Sinai congregation will officiate, but the time of the service will not be announced and the family requested that no flowers be sent.

Two members of the Rosenwald family, Lessing Rosenwald of Philadelphia, and his sister, Mrs. Edgar S. Stern of New Orleans, were being awaited last night before arrangements for the services were completed. Lessing Rosenwald is traveling from the west coast, where he was visiting his company's new stores. Messages of condolence from friends in all parts of the country were being received yesterday at the Rosenwald home, 4901 Ellis avenue.

Because of the death of Mrs. Rosenwald, plans were abandoned yesterday for the reception for University of Chicago alumni in behalf of Robert Maynard Hutchins, new president of the institution, which was to have been given tomorrow by Harold Swift, president of the board of trustees and a neighbor of the Rosenwalds.

JOHN JACOBSON, VETERAN STATE LEGISLATOR, DIES

Funeral services are to be announced today for John G. Jacobson, Democratic state representative from the 25th district, who was found dead, presumably of heart disease, yesterday in his bath in the La Salle hotel. Indications were that he had been seized with a heart attack as he bent over the tub to turn on the water.

Representative Jacobson was 60 years old and was serving his sixth term in the legislature. He was born in Norway on Jan. 25, 1869, and was brought to Chicago by his parents when four years old. He had lived in the Logan square district for more than forty years. He was secretary of the 38th ward Democratic organization for 27 years. Representative Jacobson lived at 2324 Powell avenue. An inquest is to be held.

HOOPER INQUIRES IF FLOOD PLAN CAN BE REVISED

Asks Legal Opinion Before
Replying to Dixie.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 24.—(Special.)—President Hoover today called on the department of justice for interpretation of the flood control act and the executive orders making effective the act passed by former President Coolidge.

This report, when received, will decide the legal question of whether it could be legally possible to revise the Madison plan of construction for the Mississippi flood control project in favor of a program more liberal to the owners along the river.

Attacks on Jadin Plan.

The ruling was asked as the result of numerous attacks directed against the Jadin construction plan within the last few weeks by southern senators and representatives whose constituents own land along the Mississippi river. The governor, however, spokesmen for the land owners, want the Jadin construction program halted until arrangements are made so that the government will purchase flowage rights over some 20,000 acres of Mississippi valley land, much of it swampy and covered with timber.

Secretary of War Good has been replying the flood control situation several days. At the request of President Hoover he also will submit report.

President Hoover today said a group of southern senators and representatives have submitted a brief asking for revision of the on-flood control plan. They suggested, he said, that proposed contracts for initiation of works should be suspended pending reconsideration of the conflicts between the 750 million dollar Mississippi river commission plan and the 225 million Jadin plan.

Purchase Flowage Rights.

"The effect of other suggestions," President Hoover said, "is that the government should purchase flowage rights over lands where there is to be no additional water flow out of the main channel. Where the United States is required by the law to purchase land, or flowage, or pay damages, this will be done in any event."

Before the merits or demerits of subject can be gone into, I must determine the legal questions involved as to whether or not the plan I method have not already been conclusively determined by the flood control act and the executive decisions of President Coolidge."

MEXICANS SLAY FIFTY REBELS IN JALISCO BATTLE

MEXICO CITY, May 24.—(Special.)—Fifty rebels were killed and fifty wounded in a battle between federal forces and a force of 1,500 rebels at Mexico, Jalisco, according to Guadalajara dispatches to Excelsior today.

The insurgents, who had captured the town some time ago, were driven out after two hours of fighting. The dispatches stated that a priest named Munoz, who was fighting from a church tower, was shot and killed, his body dropping to the ground.

Answering the recent declaration of former President Calles that the old Mexican revolution has succeeded in the economic and social fields, but not in the political field, Vito Alessio Plana, president of the anti-Reform party, today issued a statement in which he denied the economic success of the revolution and attacked the former president.

Alessio charged Gen. Calles was guilty to blame for the people's poverty and for the fact that "foreigners are taking control of Mexican industries and land." He declared Gen. Calles was to blame, "due to the connections with the diplomats, being commercial men, looked on by the mercantile and material classes than to concord and friendship with our people."

MICHIGAN MALT TAX BILL SIGNED; REVENUE OF $2,000,000 LIKELY

Lansing, Mich., May 24.—(Special.)—Although Michigan has on several occasions in the past sent its citizens to prison for life because they violated the prohibition law, Gov. Fred W. Green's action in signing the malt tax bill passed by the legislature put into effect an act which is expected to yield the state an annual revenue of $2,000,000 from the illicit home brew industry.

The governor's approval of the tax had been anticipated. He sought the bill's passage to recoup the general fund in event the cigarette tax, which has already been placed on the books but is not effective for 90 days, is thrown out either through litigation or an initiated referendum. In event both of these sources of special tax revenue remain effective the money will be used to reduce the general property levy, which is already assured, will be higher than ever before.

Beaten Candidate for Alderman Sent to Jail

Joseph Przybylo, Democratic committeeman of the Thirty-first ward and an unsuccessful candidate in the recent aldermanic election, was sentenced to thirty days in the Lake county jail and fined $250 yesterday by Federal Judge Charles E. DOOR TO BE OPEN WHEN SENATORS GRILL REPORTER

Secrecy Plan Dropped in Lenroot Vote Case.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 24.—(Special.)—Plans for a star chamber grilling of Paul R. Mallon, United States correspondent, who secured and published the Lenroot executive session roll call vote, have been abandoned by the senate rules committee. The hearing next Monday to which Mallon has been subpoenaed is to be open to the public and Mallon will be permitted to have counsel in attendance, it was announced.

Leaders Agree at Conference.

The committee's decision, largely inspired by yesterday's outburst on the senate floor in which the proposed secret inquisition was denounced, was made public following a conference between Senator James E. Watson (Rep., Ind.), the majority leader, and Senator George H. Moses (Rep., N. H.), the committee chairman.

Members of the committee, when the story first broke, declared their intention of examining Mallon behind closed doors in an effort to compel him to disclose what senator or senators employed revealed the votes of individual senators on the confirmation of ex-Senator Lenroot to a federal judgeship. The same members urged Mallon's prosecution for contempt of the senate if he refused to tell the source of his information.

Change in Rule Likely.

Mallon will return to answer on the ground that professional ethics will not permit him to violate a confidence and what the committee can or will do thereafter is problematical, but a number of the members are hopeful. It is known that before the next step must be decided the senate itself will have solved the difficulty by passing one of several pending resolutions to modify or abrogate the rule providing for executive session consideration of presidential appointments.

2 EX-OFFICIALS OF INDIANA KLAN ARE SENTENCED

Convicted of Auto
Theft Conspiracy.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—(Special.)—Two more former officials of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan today received prison sentences. Joseph Hufington of Evansville, former dragon, was sentenced to two years in federal prison and fined $100 by Federal District Judge Robert B. Baldwin. Sheldon Beamblossom, also of Evansville, former state Klan secretary, received a year and a day, following their conviction of participation in an interstate automobile stealing conspiracy. Beamblossom's sentence, however, was suspended.

Louis Wilkerson, Vincennes, received a sentence of a year and a day and $100 fine. Thomas King, who pleaded guilty, received a one day jail

DEFECTS SHOWN BY TESTS ON CLOSED SCHOOL

Defects in construction in the Peck elementary school, 58th street and South Hamlin avenue, were revealed yesterday when load tests were made under the supervision of Paul Gerhardt, school board architect, and representatives of three engineering concerns on whose recommendations the school was ordered closed last week by H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the school board.

The first floor of the building sagged noticeably under the weight of sand bags representing a pressure of 180 pounds to the square foot. In one room a long crack a quarter of an inch wide was opened by the weight. Beams and girders in the basement were shown to sag more than is permitted under the city building code.

Further tests will be conducted during the coming week at the Hale school, 62d street and South Linder avenue, also closed as a safety measure. Both schools were erected in 1925.

U. S. NET STARS NEAR FINALS OF FRENCH TOURNEY

Miss Wills and Tilden and Hunter Triumph.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ST. CLOUD, France, May 24.—America's big tennis stars, Bill Tilden, Helen Wills, and Helen Hunter, did their work in a most businesslike manner today, winning four matches in the French tennis championships.

It really was Hunter, whose shots had the most effect during the day. He played three matches, despite a boiling sun, and trimmed young Del Bono, a promising Italian, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4, in the first round of the singles.

In addition to aiding Miss Wills and Tilden in two Yankee doubles victories, Hunter and Helen trounced Mrs. Lebesnere and M. Henri George, 6-1, 6-4, to enter the quarter finals in the mixed doubles, while paired with Tilden. Hunter won his way to the semi-finals in the men's doubles by defeating Baron von Kehrle and Klein, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1, and 6-4.

Meet Lacoste, Borotra.
A gallery of only seven had assembled at the center court at one o'clock to see Tilden dispose of Herr Wetzel of Germany, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, but the three stars all were made to wait a while by a rain storm that came in at 1:30.

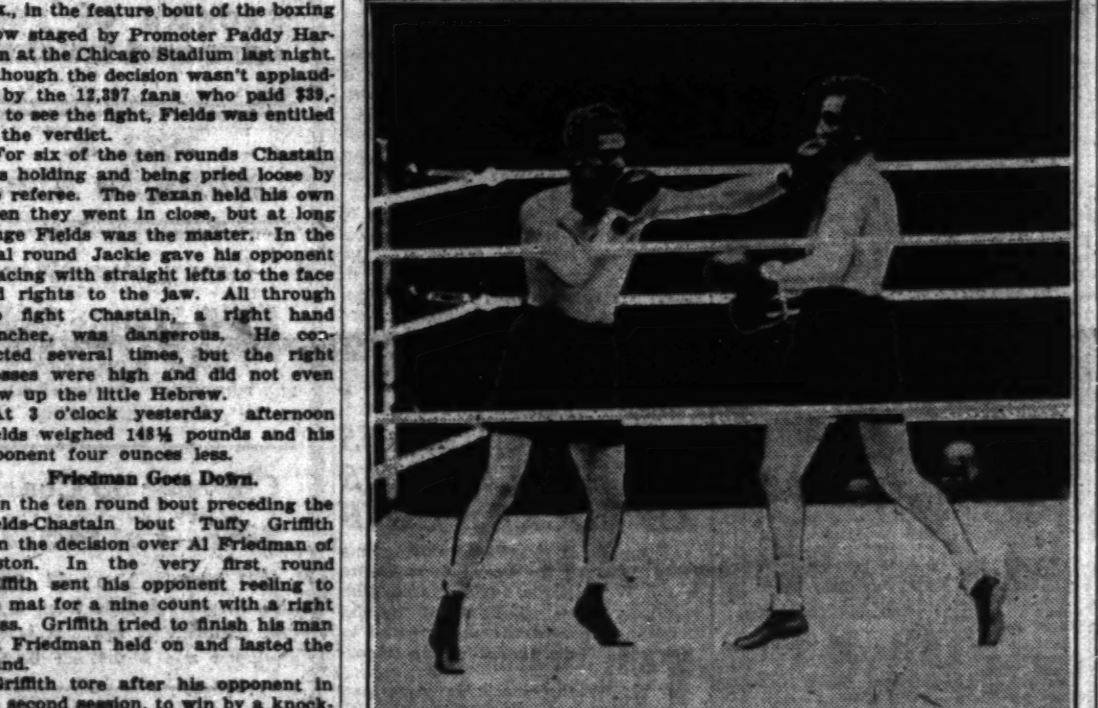

When the sun came out, the match was on. Tilden, who had been in the lead since the first set, won the match in three sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

Women Meet in Final.
It was not so with Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon. They ousted of Hans Timmer, the Dutch champion, and his comical partner, Count Salm, 6-2, 6-2, 9-7. In tomorrow's semi-finals the French pair will play the English team, J. C. Gregory and I. C. Collings, and the French youngsters, Duboulet and Bousquet, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

The final in the women's doubles tomorrow will be between K. Bouman and Sefiorita Alvarez, who eliminated Helen Wills and Miss Croon yesterday, and the Misses Heine and Neave from South Africa.

12,397 Pay $39,500 to Watch Fields, Griffith and Vicentini Win Decisions

NO GLASS IN THIS CHIN

Jackie Fields, who was bop in Chicago and won his way into the pugilistic spotlight in California, won the decision over Clyde Chastain of Dallas, Tex., in the feature bout of the boxing show staged by Promoter Paddy Harmon at the Chicago Stadium last night.

Although the decision wasn't applauded by the 12,397 fans who paid $39,500 to see the fight, Fields was entitled to the verdict.

For six of the ten rounds Chastain was holding and being pried loose by the referee. The Texan held his own when they went in close, but at long range Fields was the master. In the final round Jackie gave his opponent a lacing with straight lefts to the face and rights to the jaw. All through the fight Chastain, a right hand puncher, was dangerous. He connected several times, but the right crosses were high and did not even slow up the little Hebrew.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Fields weighed 145½ pounds and his opponent four ounces less.

Friedman Goes Down.
In the ten round bout preceding the Fields-Chastain bout, Tuffy Griffith won the decision over Al Friedman of Boston. In the very first round Griffith sent his opponent reeling to the mat for a nine count with a right cross. Griffith tried to finish his man but Friedman held on and lasted the round.

Griffith tore after his opponent in the second session, to win by a knockout, but the Bostonian held on, lasting through the round. Griffith kept forcing in the third session. In the fourth round he again dropped Friedman with another right cross for the count of nine. The Boston fighter came back in a pleasing manner to give the local fighter a battle in the closing rounds. Griffith weighed 175 pounds, Friedman five pounds more.

Luis Vicentini, the Chilean light weight, earned the decision over Armando Sapien of Cuba in the first round bout. The Chilean was a little too clever for the Cuban, who tried for a knockout in every round. Santiago stopped Joey Banger of Milwaukee at the Coliseum last winter. Fans thought he would repeat against Vicentini. The Chilean, however, kept his opponent at long range by use of a straight left hand and never refused to trade punch for punch in the center of the ring. It was an interesting fight. Afterwards Promoter Harmon asserted he will try to rematch the pair for one of his shows next month. Both scaled 135½ pounds.

Lavinsky Stops Furey.
In the opening bout Battling Lavinsky stopped Mickey Furey of Chicago after one minute and four seconds of fighting in the second round. A right cross to the jaw ended the fight. They met at 160 pounds.

In the other fight, Kurt Prenzel, the German 160 pounder, won by a technical knockout over Jerry Kubera of Chicago in the fourth round. Referee Dave Miller stopped the fight when the local fighter was unable to defend himself.

R. H. Bell and Dan Devereaux were the judges. Tommy Thomas was the other referee.

MARKS FALL IN BIG TEN TRACK PRELIMINARIES

Tolan of Michigan Ties World Record.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
The performance of Eddie Tolan, the colored sprinter from Michigan who won his trial heat in the 100 yard dash in the exceptional time of 20.6 seconds in the preliminary of the twenty-ninth annual track and field championships of the Western Conference held yesterday in the Dyche stadium, Northwestern university.

Preliminaries in eleven events were held and all finals will be decided today at the same place starting at 2 o'clock.

Tolan, a product of Cass Technical High of Detroit, and now a pupil of Steve Farrell, one of the greatest sprinters of the old professional days, not only shattered the conference mark of 20.74 by Delbert Hubbard, another colored sprinter who won the Males and Blue of Michigan but he tied the national intercollegiate held by such well known flyers as Drew, Kelly, Locke and Tadlock. Tolan's time also ties the world's record.

Simpson Batters 228 Mark.
Tolan hung up his record in the second trial heat. In the first preliminary, George Simpson of Ohio State stepped the distance in 20.7-10 which also broke the Big Ten record. The final in this race today may equal or better the world's record. Both also qualified in the 220 yard dash.

Simpson won his preliminary heat in the 228 yard dash in 20.8-10. This time he broke a record of 21.3-10 made by Eric Wilson of Iowa in 1923. Simpson was easily the class of the field and if weather conditions are favorable today he should win in even faster time. Simpson's performance was two-fifths of a second better than the national intercollegiate and world's record for the distance.

The third record to go by the boards was the shot put. Sammy Behr, the shot putter from Penn State, tossed the sixteen pound weight 47 feet 7½ inches. This mark bettered the Big Ten mark of 47 feet 3 inches made by Tim Lewis of Northwestern in 1927. Ten entrants qualified for today's final.

Martin and White Meet.
Three qualified in two events each. They were Timpan of Ohio State and Tolan of Michigan in the sprints, Belur of Wisconsin in the shot put and discus, and Forward of Iowa in the 100 yard dash.

Aside from the race between Simpson and Tolan in the hundred, the struggle for "A" places between Martin and White.

ENDURANCE! TUNNEY TRIED IN 1927 TO SETTLE WITH DIVORCEE

Arkansas Mayor Bares Part in Overtures.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 24.—[Special.]—Had there not been a heart balm settlement between Gene Tunney and Mrs. Katherine K. Fogarty, divorced wife of a Fort Worth plumber, the second Tunney-Dempsey title fight would not have been held, Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin, close friend of Tunney, said today. Mayor McLaughlin acted as the former champion's representative in an unsuccessful attempt to reach a settlement with the woman here in April, 1927.

Mrs. Fogarty, who filed a $500,000 breach of promise suit against the retired champion, was adamant during the conference here, claiming she would accept nothing less than $100,000 unless Tunney was willing to carry out his part of their alleged nuptial agreement, the mayor further said.

"At that time, Tunney did not have $100,000, and Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, who was present at the conference, and I both told Mrs. Fogarty that her demand was impossible," McLaughlin said. "In fact, Tunney emphatically declared that he would retire from the ring, if some agreement could not be reached explaining that he would not risk training for a title match with such an affair preying on his mind."

Gene Unable to Attend.
The conference was held in the Eastman hotel, Mrs. Fogarty coming here from Chicago and Gibson from New York. Tunney was unable to attend but he conferred with him by telephone three times during the meeting that lasted about five days. She expressed disappointment that no settlement had been reached.

"Gibson begged Mrs. Fogarty to set some reasonable figure for a settlement, explaining that Tunney would be in a position to pay here by September, after his next fight. Negotiations were under way then for the second Dempsey bout. She flatly refused, saying that she had already placed letters and photographs sent her by Tunney in the hands of attorneys in the east and would either get $100,000 or file suit."

"Mrs. Fogarty, throughout our conference, contended that she still loved Tunney and was anxious to consummate the affair by marriage."

"When no agreement was reached, Gibson left for New York with a warning that Tunney had fought his last ring battle until the woman came to terms."

Selling Averts Meeting.
Mayor McLaughlin said that he then dismissed the case from his mind until about six weeks ago, when John S. Fogarty, the woman's former husband, came to Hot Springs and explained to the mayor he was seeking evidence preparatory to filing a $500,000 suit against Tunney for alienation of his wife's affection.

"Fogarty also told me," McLaughlin said, "that shortly after his wife obtained her divorce he learned that Tunney was very much interested in her and had promised to marry her. Fogarty said he went to New York to confer with the retired champion, but Tunney mailed for Europe about five minutes before he arrived at the wharf."

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

George Uhle, the Tiger mound wizard, is welcome to his eighth straight victory. He earned it. Facing Ted Lyons and the other White Sox yesterday in quest of one more to add to his string of seven previously collected he ran into the battle of a season. Twenty-one innings, sensational innings, were played before Black-burne's troops surrendered in the face of a 6 to 5 score.

Everything started as if disaster instead of the longest battle staged since the Cubs and Braves won 22 innings May 17, 1927, was to mark the day's program. The Sox hit Uhle, twice holding a lead against him. The Tigers hit Lyons, once taking the lead from the Chicagoans and finally tying. The latter happened when the Tigers registered a run in the seventh, making a 5 to 5 deadlock. Then the long series of scintillating, nationally fielded and sensationally pitched innings was unfolded.

Uhle Singles in First.
What started the end of the whole thing was a single by Uhle himself, his fourth of the game. Leading off in the twenty-first he bounced a hard grounder at Hunsheider but the ball hopped just in front of the slider, rolled up the front of his shirt and popped into the air for a safety. The run to first base was just about all the energy Uhle possessed. He was waggled over to the bench, Manager Harris sent out a pinch runner, Yde, and the show went on to its disheartening finish for Lyons.

Next was a drive straight back at Lyons by Johnson. Ted tried to stab it but missed and Hunsheider stumbled and sprained, as he jumped to cut it off close to second. Yde went to third on the throw in and with none out it was apparent that Lyons had reached the end of thirteen scoreless innings. Then Rice grounded to Hunsheider and Yde was tripped between third and home, but Johnson reached third and Rice scored on the play so Lyons still was a long way from escape.

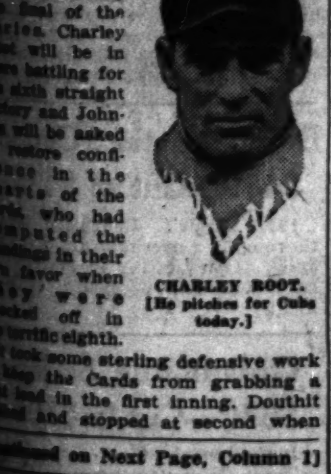

Clelland Breaks Spell.
Gehring sent a long fly to Hoffman, who pulled it in out in right center, but didn't even make an attempt to throw to the plate to cut off the lightning Johnson. It proved the winning tally. Hoffman threw to keep Rice from taking third after the catch. Hellmuth popped out to end the inning.

The Sox promptly revived hope on a single by Watwood, who batted for Berg. But Stoner, who finished for Uhle, set down the next three, and that was all.

Uhle really didn't start to pitch until after the fifth. Up to then the Sox assailed him with ten hits, three in the first inning scoring a pair of runs and five in the fifth, giving them a one run lead that was wiped out in the seventh.

After that fifth round rally in which five of the nine Sox performers hit safely, the blows of Uhle were few and far between. For the first five of what developed into fourteen runless innings for the Tiger star, the Chicagoans failed to hit. Clelland broke the spell by opening the seventh with a hit, but the three men following him faded out. Then Uhle turned in two more hitless sessions, but with the start of the fourteenth he began to show traces of wear and the Sox worried him continually, but he always came up in the pinches.

Bernardo Bares Score.
Lyons carried himself along after the seventh mainly because of a fielding. He made a one handed catch

TILDEN TO RETIRE

William T. Tilden II, for five years tennis champion of the world and perhaps the outstanding player of his time, is about "through." In a signed article in the current issue of the magazine Liberty, the self-styled "aged net star" announces that this year will mark the end of international competition for him.

He adds, "I have no intention of giving up playing, but I shall play it as long as my two wabbling legs will function, and my aged and feeble arm will swing, as long as my age-dimmed eyes can see a ball. However, in the future it will be as an individual and not as a member of any American team."

Tilden declares that he has no intention of turning professional now or at any other time. "My future status will continue to be amateur," he emphasizes.

KALTEAU NAMED PRESIDENT OF TRIBUNE A. A.

Frank Kalteau last night was elected president of the Tribune Athletic Association at a meeting in the Sheraton hotel. Eddie Mahke was chosen vice president and J. J. Lipp secretary-treasurer.

Plans were discussed for enlarging the organization's athletic program. More than 40 attended.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR WAKE: In 1863, as you walked along Washington street, you saw Letta's foundry on the north side of the street, between Market and Franklin. It was a large wooden one and one-half stories high, producing pig iron. You would see two men carrying a large iron kettle filled with molten metal which they poured from the kettle into frames laid flat on the ground. After cooling, they placed the pig iron in pieces of finished product in tiers. Pedestrians passing the plant could see all the work done at the foundry.

Joseph Collosky Sr.

About 1875, Vincennes road (now avenue) was hemmed by hard soil bushes south of Ryan avenue (now 39th street), which was then the city limits. Along about October you would find a spray camp of about a dozen families resting during their migration south. At the same season flocks of wild pigeons roosted in the woods along this road, more generally where the woods were most dense, at 45th street. The clicking notes on the spray of one and one-half stories high, producing pig iron, and the fact that a gypsy camp was near, did not tend to make this a "Lovers' Lane" on a dark night.

Sonnet of a Troubadour.

You have been gone so long it seems as though
We shall not meet again upon this earth
To share alike old fancies and young mirth;
And in this day of adolescence grow
Ripe with a rich desire, Oh, I know
In your lone hours there must be a search
That love might flourish in the face of strife;
Then all our little laughs of long ago.

After parting there is ever pain.
And after pain is come the haunting wealth
Of one that walked to meet us in the night
That love might flourish in the face of strife;
And after that there is an empty gain
Of wisdom in the knowledge of this life.

of a terrific liner by Gehring that doubled Rice, who had opened the ninth with a single. In the twelfth, with one out and two on, the Sox saved themselves by outmarrying the Tigers in an attempted double steal.

The fourteenth, for Lyons, was disaster than anything that went before. The struggle would have terminated right then and there if Reynolds' arm hadn't been tossed into the breach. Hellmann doubled in this round with one out. After Alexander had been retired, McManus singled to right and Hellmann charged in from second with what would have been the winning run. Reynolds raced in for the hit, took it on the first bounce, heaved it almost with bullet-like speed to the plate and Crouse grabbed it just in time to throw himself at Hellmann's feet as the ponderous Tiger slid into the plate.

In the six scoreless Tiger innings that came after the fourteenth Lyons had to hurt himself out of three difficult situations. Johnson led off in the sixteenth with a single and Rice sacrificed. Lyons made both Gehring and Hellmann bounce to Hunnefeld. Alexander opened the seventeenth with a single to deep short and when Cassell threw wild the fifth runner, Reynolds raced in for the hit, took it on the first bounce, heaved it almost with bullet-like speed to the plate and Crouse grabbed it just in time to throw himself at Hellmann's feet as the ponderous Tiger slid into the plate.

In the first inning the Sox exploded three hits in a row to get their two left center and Hunnefeld singled his home. Hunnefeld scored when Kamm reached a triple in right. Kamm never reached home, however, because the man following him could do nothing more than ground to an infielder. The Tigers used five hits to shove over three runs in the second chapter. Alexander started it with a single, McManus fanned but Phillips singled, putting Alex on second where he scored on Schubert's fly. Then Uhl hit safely, Johnson did the same, and Rice doubled. The Tigers added one more in the third on a triple by Alexander and a single that Hunnefeld and Reynolds let fall between them. Without this error of omission the story might have been entirely different.

The three run assault on which the Sox went ahead one run in the fifth was the result of singles by Kamm, Kamm, Reynolds, Hoffman, and Crouse, with a sacrifice fly by Cassell sandwiched in. Then the Tigers tied it at five each by scoring once in the seventh on singles by Gehring and Hillmann and Alexander's fly. After this there were thrills aplenty but no runs until Uhl's own hit brought on the conclusion in the twenty-first chapter.

Cubs Defeat Cards, 5 to 4; Regain Lead

High singled to right (it was High's sixth successive arrival at first in the Cub series). Douthett and Hunt moved up on Frisch's sacrifice bunt and Bottomley was given an intentional pass to the base. Roetger was called out on strikes and Holm popped to Hornsby.

Gelbert Out at Plate.

The single with which English opened the fourth was the first Cub hit. Cuyler forced Woody and Hornsby and Wilson remained hitless in the series to retire a runner. Sherdel personally took care of the launching of the scoring phase of the game in the Cards' fourth. Smith walked with one down and stopped at second when Gelbert singled to left. Sherdel singled to center, scoring Smith, Gelbert stopping at third. Willie went to second when Wilson threw to the plate. Douthett sent a slow roller along the third base line and McMillan got it for a close play at the plate which retired Gelbert. High then lined to Grimm. The score was Cards, 1; Cubs, 0.

The Cubs had a chance to tie the score when they hit on the third and first with one out. Stephenson opened with a single and after Grimm had popped to Gelbert went to third on Gonzales' single to center. Malone struck out and then McMillan fled to Roetger.

In their fifth the Cards made two runs, and perhaps would have made more but for infield alertness. After Frisch had fled out to Wilson, Bottomley made his second home run, a crack into the right field pavilion. Roetger walked and stopped at second when Holm singled to right. Smith singled to left, scoring Roetger, but McMillan intercepted Stronach's throw and threw to Malone, covering third. Holm was run down between third and second. Malone to English to Hornsby, and Smith was doubled trying to get back to first.

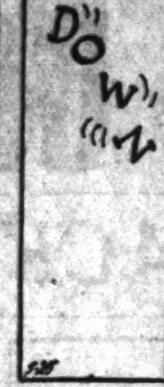

Here's the detail of that big eighth: Cuyler walked and scored on Hornsby's double to center. Hornsby scored on Wilson's double to right. Johnson went into pitch. Cuyler crashed into the right field wall getting Stephenson's smash, but Grimm doubled to center, scoring Wilson. Charley went to third while Gelbert was throwing out Gonzales, but Frisch made a great stop back in the grass to get Malone's grounder and throw him out at first. The score was: Cards, 5; Cubs, 4.

Bottomley led off the Cards' ninth with his second home run. Manager Southworth batted for Roetger and grounded to McMillan. Holm fouled to Grimm, and Smith was called out on strikes.

UP ON HIS FIRST FLIGHT SMITTY IS ON HIS WAY

KONCZYK HURLS NO HIT, NO RUN GAME; LANE WINS

Pitcher for Konczyk of the Lane Tech nine, runner up for the City league title last year and leading the north section in this year's race, had another big day yesterday, and Schurz was again the victim. A few weeks ago Konczyk struck out 17 Schurz batters in one game. Yesterday he faced the same batters, struck out nine, and allowed them neither hits nor runs while his teammates were bunting hits in the fifth and sixth innings for their total of four runs. It was the second no hit, no run performance turned in by a Lane pitcher this season. A short time ago Carl Valcek of the Techs also achieved the same feat.

Only two Schurz batters reached first base, Konczyk granting his only walk to Byerspawl in the fifth, while Wilbert got to first in the fourth when O'Parks, Lane third baseman, erred. The latter redeemed himself later by starting the Techs' scoring in the fifth and sending two mates home with a single in the sixth. Amersbach and Smilgoff also contributed to the Lane offense. Adamek of Schurz, regularly a third baseman, pitched a good game, striking out six Tech batters and holding them in every inning except the fifth and sixth. Score: Lane, 0; Schurz, 4.

CRANE WHIPS AUSTIN, 7-2.

After having spent the greater part of the season in second place, Crane Tech made its bid for honors in the west section of the City league yesterday. The Techs defeated Austin, 7 to 2, at Mills stadium and thereby won a tie for the lead with the losers. Crane scored four runs in the first inning and added one in each of the three ensuing frames. Janakus and Arrigo featured the winners' attack, the former striking out 10 Austin batters. The latter hit two doubles. Score: Austin, 2; Crane Tech, 7.

ENGLEWOOD, 17; HYDE PARK, 2.

Englewood defeated its traditional rival, Hyde Park, 17 to 2, in a central section tilt at Hamilton park yesterday, and clinched second place in the division with a record of eight wins and two losses. It was Pitcher Joe Ponzavie's seventh straight league victory. He struck out 13 and held his opponents in every inning except the third, in which they counted three runs, two of them on a triple by Cole Somersman and Kramer headed the Englewood offensive. Score: Hyde Park, 2; Englewood, 17.

LINDENBOM BEATS PHILLIPS.

Lindendbom, City league champion, won his ninth game of the season yesterday by defeating Wendell Phillips, 4 to 1, at Deussen park. Charlie Macdonald, Lindendbom's pitcher, turned in another great game, striking out three Phillips batters in a row in the seventh after he had scored two runs and filled the bases. Mayer and Smith each hit a pair of doubles for Lindendbom. Score: Phillips, 1; Lindendbom, 4.

MARSHALL DEFEATS MCKINLEY.

Pitcher Fernetti of Marshall handed his team a 5 to 0 victory over McKinley in a west section game yesterday by hitting a home run in the seventh inning to break up a 5 and 0 lead. Fernetti held McKinley to five hits, three of the losers runs crossing the plate in the fourth on an overthrow with the bases loaded. Score: McKinley, 0; Marshall, 5.

OAK PARK WINS IN 11TH.

Catcher Huskey's single with the bases full in the eleventh inning broke an extra run in the seventh. Croft, his battery mate, contributed a single and a pair of doubles. Score: Oak Park, 5; Hyde Park, 2.

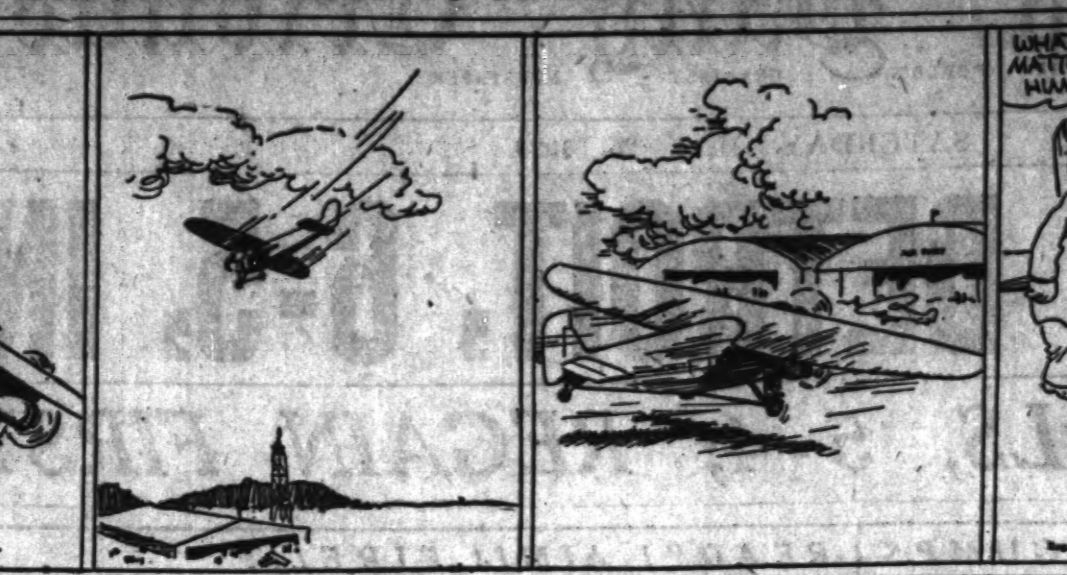

LA GRANGE WINS SIXTH.

La Grange maintained its unbeaten record yesterday by defeating Riverdale in the lower division yesterday, 11 to 2, in their second meeting of the year. It was the winners' sixth straight victory. Bluder, La Grange pitcher, struck out eight Riverdale batters and hit an extra run in the seventh. Croft, his battery mate, contributed a single and a pair of doubles. Score: La Grange, 11; Riverdale, 2.

Umeh Shows Way to Richman in Banion Race

Van Horn, Tex., May 24.—(P)—Umeh, light heavyweight champion, outpointed Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, by an impressive margin tonight in the Boston Garden's matinee round bout. Schaaf weighed 190 pounds, five more than the title holder.

TWO MAN O' WAR BLACK SHEEP RUN WILD AT AURORA

BY FRENCH LANE.

Two black sheep in the great family of Man o' War stole the show at the Aurora races yesterday when Field Marshall won the first race in a canter from a band of cheap players, and Old Guard came so near capturing the feature that a lot of customers yelled "Blind Tom" at the judges when he was placed second and the verdict given to the Orleanian.

The placing judges might have been right in their decision which gave The Orleanian the verdict in the best race of the program. But everybody in the press box including the expert charmers, called Old Guard as the winner by anything from a snoot to a neck, and artificial respiration had to be used to put a couple of them back on their feet in time to watch the sixth race.

Going down the back stretch of the mile and seventy yards fifth race Old Guard was last by something like 30 lengths while Ted Healey and the Orleanian were out in front trying to run each other into submission. They had the inner lane before Johnny W. Carroll began to move up with Old Guard.

He looked like a flying horse from there until the finish. He came far wide where the footing was a bit more firm in the heavy going and to most everybody but the placing judges it looked like he got up in the last dozen strides to head The Orleanian. His nose seemed to drop on the line first but they paid off on The Orleanian which, after all, was the most important item.

The Orleanian ran the mile and 70 yards in 1:52.5, which was nine seconds off the record and indicated the track was extremely difficult to navigate. In the mutuels the Orleanian paid $19.34. The Old Guard backers might have called the judges a few other bad names but they were too busy cashing in their tickets at $11.88 to base and $5.92 to show.

WHEAT MARKET
LITTLE BY
FOREIGN DUTIESCorn Planting Reports
Lower Prices.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Fears that low priced foreign wheat would be dumped on the French and Italian markets resulted in both countries raising the import duty about 15c per bu. effective immediately, in an effort to protect farmers, the French duty being raised to 64c, and the Italian to 73c per bu. The raising of the duty, while falling to have much effect here, had a depressing effect in Liverpool which closed unchanged to 1/4c lower.

The wheat market had an easier undertone from the start with prices steadily declining under scattered commission house and local pressure, and at the inside September equaled the lowest price of the season with other deliveries within 1/4c of the low, the close being about the bottom with net losses of 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c.

The latter finish at $1.01, with July at $1.04, and September at $1.05 1/2. Corn planting is being rushed to completion over the greater part of the central west with weather favorable for operations. This led to a change in sentiment in the futures market and prices declined and closed with net losses of 1/4 to 1/2c. May being 84 1/2c, July, 85 1/2c, September, 87 1/2c, and December, 89 1/2c. Oats were 44 1/2c to 45 1/2c, and May, 45 1/2c, July, 46 1/2c, and September, 47 1/2c, while rye was 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c, with May and July 55c and September 56c.

Look for Big Wheat Crop.

A Chicago man who is attending the Oklahoma Grain Dealers' convention stated that it was the general estimate of the trade that Texas would produce a winter wheat crop of 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 bu.; Oklahoma, 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 bu.; and Kansas 170,000,000 to 200,000,000 bu. This view attracted considerable attention, and led to some lowering of the prospect, and led to some selling of futures. Reports of hot and dry winds in parts of the Canadian northwest failed to have much effect, although the forecast for generally fair and warmer. Winnipeg had a holiday.

It is estimated that in the last few days that Chicago handlers have bought around 100,000 bu. cash wheat to come here from the northwest, and the question of storage room in the latter section is commencing to be a factor in the general market, as mills and elevators there are carrying large stocks for the year and harvesting is expected to start in a few weeks. Broomehall estimates the Hungarian wheat crop this season at 75,000,000 bu. compared with 100,000,000 bu. in 1928, but the foreign outlook is attracting no attention at the present time.

Bash Corn Planting.

Favorable weather over the greater part of the corn belt the last few days resulted in planting of corn being rushed, and the forecast was for generally fair and warmer. There was persistent selling of futures with support coming mainly from holders of the inside and prices at the inside were within a fraction of the lowest figures of the season on the deferred delivery. Shipping sales of 30,000 bu. of cash corn by local handlers including business from northern ports, failed to have much effect on sentiment, as it is expected that receipts will increase considerably as soon as planting is over.

Scattered longs were on the selling side of oats and the finish was at the bottom, with May losing 1/4c on the day, finishing 1,400 1/4c. On delivery, Fort Worth, Tex., received its first car of new oats of the season, it graded No. 1 red, and tested 32c per bu. Rye broke in sympathy with wheat. Trade was very light.

New York Spot Cotton

Leads Sharp Break

Spot cotton in New York yesterday declined 25 points to 12.40c. Trading in May in the leading markets ceased yesterday and in New York, Chicago and New Orleans May closed unchanged. Pressure was put on the deferred futures as the result of a good weather in the cotton belt and showers in the west. Buying support was limited and sellers rather more aggressive with the close around the lowest of the day, with futures in Chicago 4 to 14 points lower, New York leading 4 to 14 points lower, New Orleans leading 4 to 14 points lower. It is said that the bull interest in May in New York was selling July, which net 10 points. Spots in New Orleans lost only 6 points to 12.70c with sales, 550 bales. Houston was 12.70c, with sales 150 bales. Galveston 12.65c with sales, 500 bales. Liverpool had a holiday. It is reported that Dallas is to be made a delivery point for Chicago contracts of the same as Houston and Galveston. Spinners' taking for the week are estimated at 213,225 bales. Dallas received weather in southern Texas is cool for cotton progress of the crop. Practically all of eastern Texas reports soil too wet. Oklahoma, reports mild weather was too cool over practically the entire state. Prices follow:
